

The Grist Mill

Marios Chios, Narberth restaurateur, fell victim last Sunday to the well-known manpower shortage. As a result Marios had his first day off on a Sunday for 21 years and went into Philadelphia to celebrate. Some patrons, unaware of the situation, jiggled the door of "Arcadia Chios" in vain.

It pays to read the small print—even on your tax bill. Narberth Tax Collector John Hall reports that many taxpayers apparently fail to note the statement in small type which calls attention to the fact that a five percent discount may be taken on taxes paid before September 1. This oversight causes Collector Hall considerable trouble since, as an honest man, he feels he should make a refund to those who have not taken off the discount. So save yourself some money and Mr. Hall some trouble by figuring your discount and deducting it from your tax payment to the Borough.

Don Woodward, Montgomery County's landscape engineer, who designed and supervised the construction of most of the attractive buildings at the County's Upper Perkiomen Valley Park, near Green Lane, made the new Narberth Methodist Church sign placed outside its handsome building. Woodward, who lives in the old Methodist Church across the street, recalls how not so long ago, after he and his family had been living for several months in the apartment he built out of the one-time Sunday School rooms, an attractive woman walked in and asked Mrs. Woodward for the kitchen. "Why it's right there," Mrs. W. said, pointing. The woman entered and proceeded to unload groceries. "Aren't you in the wrong place?" Mrs. Woodward inquired mildly. "Why, isn't this the Methodist Church?" the woman replied. "It used to be," said Mrs. Woodward. "Only the Church has been across the street for 10 years now."

THIRD WAR LOAN DRIVE

Fifteen billion dollars is the goal for the Third War Loan which President Roosevelt has proclaimed will be launched September 9. In his proclamation the President said, "Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask far more sacrifice, far more cooperation than ever before."

The Army's radio photo service, which made it possible for the public to see newspaper pictures of the assault on Sicily on the same day that the invasion was launched, will be augmented in the immediate future by the same type of transmission from the South Pacific theatre, the War Department has announced. Personnel of the U. S. Army Signal Corps, with their equipment, are now in Australia, finishing preparations for the new service.

SUPPLY OF FATS, OILS

Despite heavy wartime demands on the supply of edible fats and oils (principally lard, butter, shortening, and margarine), 44 pounds per capita—about 5 pounds less than in 1942—will be made available to American civilians during the 12 months ending June 30, 1944, the War Food Administration has announced. Of the total civilian allocation, approximately nine ounces per week per capita will be available for direct purchases, and an additional 4½ ounces for indirect consumption in such items as restaurant meals, bakery products, mayonnaise, etc.

COST OF LIVING DROPS

With other living costs relatively stable, a drop in fresh vegetables and butter prices cut the cost of living for city workers by 0.2 percent in the month ending June 15—the first month to show a reduction since a year before Pearl Harbor, the U. S. Department of Labor reported recently. Food prices as a whole, making up over 40 per cent of the cost of living index, declined 0.8 percent. The cost of living index now stands at 124.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average. Food prices are 45 percent above January, 1941 and more than 16 percent above May, 1942.

Lower Merion Casters Win Tournament Honors

By ELLEN A. DIETRICH

Favored with an ideal casting day at Willow Grove Park last Sunday (Aug. 1, 1943), members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club brought home high honors from a total of 183 entries of the fifteen member clubs of the Middle Atlantic Association of Casting Clubs, at the Sixth Annual M. A. A. C. C. Tournament.

In unusually keen competition against some of the best casters of the Eastern part of the United States, Skeets Anderson of Narberth placed first, with a score of 95%, in the Plug Accuracy event; while Ernest Jenkins, a also of Narberth, placed second in the Plug Novelty event. Ernie's score was only one point lower than that made by William Sheridan of Bethlehem, the winner of the latter event. Skeets and Ernie have been casters of consistently high averages in the Middle Atlantic Association of Casting Clubs; and the Lower Merion Club was counting on them to "bring home the bacon" in Plug Casting.

Among a field of strong contestants, another member of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, Howell I. Dietrich of Upper Darby, took Fly Casting honors by placing third in both the Fly Accuracy and Fly Distance events at the M. A. A. C. C. Tournament.

Other local casters who turned in excellent scores in Plug, Fly and Surf Casting to "Make the winning tough" at Willow Grove last Sunday were: Walter Mieson of Narberth, Charles Spencer of Upper Darby and Edwin Anderson, Narberth, all members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club.

All of the Lower Merion Club casters are to be particularly commended for their outstanding showing in this Tournament, since their work during the past year has kept them entirely too busy to devote an adequate amount of time to casting practice.

Further, their scores are national scores made with regular everyday fishing tackle, instead of with specially made tournament reels, lines, etc. The use of regular fishing equipment in tournament is a special feature which was begun by the Middle Atlantic Association of Casting Clubs.

Vacations At Home Can Be Lots of Fun And Profitable, Too

Vacations can be as much fun as ever this year, although crowded transportation facilities and gasoline rationing will keep many people closer to home. Even though your vacation plans have been modified, you'll find there's plenty to do in your own backyard.

If you like sports, how about organizing and participating in softball games? It will provide enjoyment for your neighbors as well as yourself. Golf and swimming are good summer pastimes, and in

LOCAL OFFICER DECORATED AGAIN

Villanova Grad Gets Eighth Oak Leaf Cluster Air Medal

A Villanova College graduate who piloted one of the Flying Fortresses in the first bombing of Rouen, France, last August is among four U. S. Army Air Forces members from eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware again decorated for outstanding flight achievements.

Captain Walter E. Kelly, son of Mrs. T. Ellwood Kelly, 208 Green Lane, Manayunk, has been awarded his eighth oak leaf cluster for the Air Medal previously awarded him. A similar oak leaf cluster was awarded posthumously to Captain Charles D. Sharpless, of Newark, Del., reported killed in action last April 7.

Captain Kelly, who was here on a short leave two months ago, enlisted in February, 1941, after being graduated in engineering at Villanova. Soon after being commissioned, he transferred to the Air Forces and was sent overseas shortly after receiving his wings.

At the time he received the Air Medal, he had made more than 60 flights over France and Italy as well as having taken part in the Tunisian campaign.

REMINDS DRIVERS TO ENDORSE STAMPS

Chairman of Ration Board Stresses New Ruling

Motorists and all other gasoline users were reminded today by Bryn Mawr War Price and Rationing Board that all the coupons in their gasoline ration books must be endorsed immediately.

Coupons in new books issued after July 22, should be endorsed as soon as they are received from the War Price and Rationing Board, Perry said. In addition, users should write endorsements immediately on any coupons now in their possession or received before July 22.

In the past it has not been necessary to write notations on coupons until they were actually used to buy gas.

Immediate endorsements are required under a new OPA amendment both as a convenience to the public and as a help to OPA investigators.

MOLLY PITCHER DAY NETS $6,000

Main Line E. A. Sells Bonds and Stamps in Drive

Main Line Molly Pitchers yesterday garnered more than six thousand dollars in war bonds and stamps, in a Molly Pitcher Tag Day Drive sponsored by the Emergency Aid.

Booths were set up in Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Narberth, and Wayne to act as centers for the sale. The "Salesman" were young girls, members of the Emergency Aid and local volunteers, wearing colonial caps, and carrying tags bearing a reproduction of Molly's blue pitcher which they gave to each purchaser. One girl in Ardmore alone sold $206 worth of bonds and stamps.

History has it that Mary Ludwig Hays, twenty-four-year-old wife of a colonial patriot soldier, was nicknamed "Molly Pitcher" by her husband's comrades whom she aided during the Battle of Monmouth, in New Jersey, on June 28, 1778. It was a blistering hot day, according

W. G. Briner Attends State Conference

A plea for equality of educational opportunity in the post-war world was sounded by Dr. Henry H. Hill, Pittsburgh Supt. of Schools, as the 21st annual Superintendents' and Principals' Conference came to a close at the Pennsylvania State College with several hundred schoolmen in attendance.

The three-day conference was devoted to a study of war and post-war problems, with particular emphasis on the ways and means in which Pennsylvania schools may contribute to a successful prosecution of the war. Max Lerner, nationally-known author, lecturer and educator, warned that the war may last another two years.

W. Grier Briner, 316 Merion Ave., Narberth, Pa., attended the conference.

Craig Stars in Narberth Comeback, Pen Mar Hands Manoa Surprise Defeat

With right-hander Jim Craig apparently what the doctor ordered, Narberth has ended its losing streak, has boosted its lead to two full games and appears well fortified for the defense of first place as the six Main Line League nines started down the home stretch.

The pressure on Narberth was eased somewhat when Manoa's second place team was handed a jarring 6-2 setback by Pen-Mar last Saturday in a week-end of surprises. Pen-Mar, in turn, was handed a stunning 11-0 defeat by Brookline's hustling youngsters, while Manoa came back to riddle fourth place Overbrook with amazing ease, 17-6. Meanwhile, Narberth, regaining its form, walloped the West Phils, 8-2, to gain a half game over its first division rivals.

Overbrook's in-and-out club, draws this week's unenviable assignment, being slated to challenge Manoa in a Saturday twilight game at Manoa and Darby Rds., Brookline, and to face Narberth on the latter's Community Field Sunday afternoon.

If Overbrook lives up to form, it's due to rebound and come up with a first class performance in at least one of these two games. The Lions must win to retain fourth

Those present included Sumner Davis and Wesley Matthews, Haverford; L. Bert Curtis, Ernest Hutchinson and Charles A. Wright, Ardmore; and Dr. George Roberts and Henry Smith, Narberth.

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

IT TAKES a certain amount of courage for a book reviewer to turn to writing books. It's always harder to be in the position of one who receives criticism than one who does it out. One man who does a very successful job on both sides of the literary fence is John Selby. Every week day for the past ten years, John Selby has written a column about somebody else's books. He's also found time to write three novels of his own, the most recent of which is "Starbuck," the story of Brant Starbuck who was both a musician of genius and a normal, healthy, fun-loving youth.

JOHN SELBY

The time of this story is before and during the First World War. The scene shifts from the Middle West (which Mr. Selby knows well, since he was brought up there) to New York, to Germany where the hero studies and has his debut, back to the United States. Brant is a prodigy at thirteen. Because of the wisdom of his guardians, who don't wish to see him subject to the quick rise and fall of most child prodigies, he is withheld from the concert stage until he is nineteen. His success is instantaneous, and in the next few years he becomes phenomenally famous and wealthy. All of which he accepts without losing his innate integrity.

Then, because he does not want to be considered something apart from other men, Brant enlists in the Navy at the outbreak of our war with Germany. Indirectly, his enlistment leads to an accident to his hand which makes it impossible for him to play the piano again. To the average person, this would mean only tragedy. But Brant is made of sterner stuff. Turning his talents to conducting, he is able to carve a new career for himself.

In "Circuit to Conquest" Relman Morin tells the story of the Japanese lieutenant in Indo-China who discovered among the effects of a French hotel manager a book of figures. The Frenchman explained that he had once been a civil engineer, and this was a set of logarithmic tables. The lieutenant called in a Japanese naval officer, who confirmed what the Frenchman had said. Yes, the figures were logarithms. But the lieutenant, suspicious to the last, confiscated the book. Possibly the book was a secret code, disguised as a mathematical table. He would work out each logarithm and see for himself. As far as Mr. Morin knows, he is working on them still.

The Book-of-the-Month Club selection for September is a novel, "So Little Time," by John P. Marquand. Included in this book is a satiric portrayal of a famous war correspondent—or rather, several correspondents rolled into one. Incidentally, Marquand relates that a few months ago he was in a New York night club when one well-known correspondent was present. Everyone was thrilled to see him there, and finally someone ventured to ask him: what he thought of the situation in North Africa. There was a long pause while the great one weighed his words. "In my opinion," he answered finally, "anything can happen in North Africa."

Tyson Is Only Candidate To Withdraw

Dorp, East Norristown Township.
For surveyor: Herbert H. Metz, Lansdale.

Out of the above list of candidates the Regular Republican Organization has endorsed the following candidates:

For county commissioner, Peters and Hillegass; for treasurer, Winner; for controller, Dr. Barker; for district attorney, Smille; for recorder of deeds, Marshall; for sheriff, Glass; for register of Wills, Mrs. Beerer; for coroner, Rushong; for clerk of courts, Dorp; for surveyor, Metz.

In the local municipalities there were no withdrawals reported for either Lower Merion Township or Narberth Borough. Thus, in the township and the borough there remains only one contest that has to be settled at the Republican primary on September 14 and that is for the office of magistrate in Narberth where three candidates have filed and two must be elected. Both in Narberth and Lower Merion the Democrats have failed to enter candidates for the offices to be elected.

"Tonight or Never" Comes to Playhouse

Kitty Carlisle, of musical comedy and screen fame, and Wilbur Evans, Philadelphia, who have become well-known in concert, radio and musical comedy, will be co-starred in David Belasco's comedy, "Tonight or Never," at the Bucks County Playhouse in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, the week starting Monday, August 9.

The Philadelphia Bulletin, of October 27, 1931, in reviewing "Tonight or Never," said, "During the play's extended engagement in New York, David Belasco died. 'Tonight or Never' was an ideal swan song for the grand old man of the theatre. It was typical of him—it is pure theatre."

Miss Carlisle started her career on the musical comedy stage in "Champagne Sec," later appearing in "White Horse Inn" and "Three Waltzes." In Hollywood she appeared in such films as "Murder at the Vanities," "She Loves Me Not," "Here is My Heart" and "A Night at the Opera."

Wilbur Evans was born in Philadelphia, graduated from the West Philadelphia High School and Beacon Preparatory School, before receiving a Bachelor of Music degree at the Curtis Institute of Music. He has sung in concert, opera, oratorio and oratoria in 90 cities of the United States and Canada. Has been heard on many coast to coast radio programs including, Atwater Kent Sunday Evening Hour, Maxwell House Showboat, Star from the Blue, Treasury Bond Wagon, Vick's Opera House co-starred with Jeannette MacDonald and many others.

Winner Appointed to Assist in Tax Study

Appointment of Edwin Winner Upper Merion Township, as chairman of a special sub-committee of the Joint State Government Commission, for a study of the tax structure in Pennsylvania was announced this week.

Winner is a State representative for Montgomery County and a candidate for treasurer for the County at the Republican primary on September 14.

Following his appointment Winner declared: "We are going to make a comprehensive investigation of the tax system of the State. It is likely that the sub-committee will recommend a revision of the entire tax structure."

Winner's appointment was due to his participation in the legislative program at the last session which resulted in a saving of approximately $40,000,000 for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

HOME CANNERS WARNED

Home canners have been warned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture against the use of "canning powders" and other chemical preservatives. W. G. Campbell, Commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, said that use of some of the "canning powders" constitutes a definite health hazard. The term "canning powders," includes boric acid and its compounds and substances like metabisulfite which yield sulfur dioxide when brought in contact with an acid-reacting food product. The safe way for the home canner is to process foods adequately with heat and not to use chemical preservatives. For safety's sake rely on thorough heat sterilization.

ARMY EXCHANGES SELL EXOTIC WARES

Army Exchanges, which follow American troops wherever they go, are now dealing in such items as kangaroo rugs, grass skirts, and native-made jewelry, in addition to their staple line of cigarettes, candy, soft drinks, and other home commodities the War Department has been informed. Since many of the soldiers want to send such things home, the Exchange Service buys them from the natives at a reasonable price and resells them to the soldiers. The natives were inclined to "jack up the price" on direct sales. Grass skirts sell for approximately $1.50, while a good kangaroo rug may cost $20.

MASS MAILING FINISHED

Approximately 122,000,000 copies of War Ration Book Three had been mailed by the first of last week. OPA announced that (1) anyone who does not receive his War Ration Book Three should apply at his local board between August 1 and 10. (2) a plan is now being set up to distribute War Ration Book Three to members of the armed services who are eligible for ration books; (3) persons receiving War Ration Book Three should sign their names and addresses in the spaces reserved for that purpose on the cover.

The provision permitting retailers to make emergency reductions in the point values of rationed meats, fats and dairy products in imminent danger of spoiling, which was to expire July 31, has been extended indefinitely, OPA has announced.

GAS COUPONS CHANGED FOR TRIPS

Motorists can use their "A" ration books for trips into, or out of, the Eastern gasoline shortage area, according to rules recently announced by OPA. Since July 21, Eastern motorists have been using "A-6" coupons, while those outside the East have been using "A-7". To overcome these difficulties in travel "across the border" a new amendment to the Gasoline Rationing Regulations permit "A" ration holders to exchange any of their valid "A" coupons for other coupons that may be used in the area in which they expect to travel. Exchanges may be made and further information secured at the War Price and Rationing Board.

INCREASE SHOE SUPPLY

To increase the supply of children's and infant's shoes, and men's work shoes, WPB recently amended order M-217 (Footwear) to permit a 25 per cent increase in the output of shoes for boys, misses, children, and infants. Production of men's work shoes may be increased by 15 per cent and men's safety shoes by 25 per cent. The order also will permit increased production of shoes at price levels where there is greater consumer demand.

FEWER NEW TIRES

Smaller quotas of new passenger car tires for August and larger quotas of used and recapped tires have been announced by OPA, based on rationing allotments assigned for the month by the Office of Rubber Director. The August quota of Grade 1 tires is the lowest since last April. OPA officials warned that drivers who are eligible for new tires may have to accept used or recapped types as long as the quota of new tires is low.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. James I. McConlogue, of 406 Cherry Lane, Merion Park, have announced the engagement of their daughter Mary V. McConlogue to Lieutenant Chas. E. Motson, of Collingdale, who is stationed in Orlando, Fla., with the Army Air Force.

perature. Heavy store wrappings, cardboard cartons, and tops of vegetables that are not going to be cooked can easily be left out of the icebox.

Cooling warm foods before storing and covering most foods except those with thick skins will keep down the temperature of your icebox. Otherwise, their heat, flavor, and moisture escape to freeze on the cooling unit.

The Price of Liberty

The elimination of Mussolini as dictator of Italy unquestionably was a severe blow to Hitler, both psychologically and militarily, despite Berlin's attempt to label the debacle a "domestic affair."

The fall of the fascist dictator was extremely good news—and a welcome omen. But, despite the wave of optimism over the nation, the war is far from over. Americans need only to consult a geography to see how much is left to be done.

It is well to remember that we are fighting to recover positions we have lost. We lost New Guinea and the Solomons. We are fighting to regain them. We are forced to fight for a bridgehead in Europe because four years ago we did not strengthen France. We shall have to get back to the Philippines to recapture Burma and to reopen China.

Only a short time ago Vice Admiral Horne made the statement that we would be fighting Japan until 1949. That statement was not made without due thought.

Consult your geography. Despite our successes in the southwest Pacific, we are not much nearer to Tokyo. And remember that it took six months, many lives and an awesome amount of bitter fighting to capture the little island of Guadalcanal. Another five months passed before the Allies were ready to start their second offensive movement with the final capture of Rabaul as the objective.

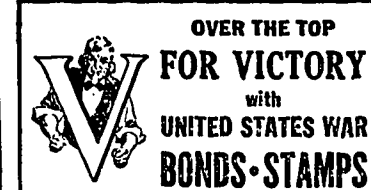

Until MacArthur's drive against the Japanese on New Guinea the fighting had been more defensive than offensive. The strategy then had been to prevent the Japs from attacking Australia from Port Moresby, from seizing the Solomons and making the east coast of Australia vulnerable and to save the life-line of men and materials moving from America to Australia.

Only in the past few months have we taken the real offensive in the southwest Pacific. A map of Asia which shows the territory held by Japan will prove to you that our gains since the start of the offensive constitute a very small area. However, our victories are more than geographical matters. We have destroyed enemy effectiveness in larger proportion than the size of the recaptured areas would indicate.

Germany is not beaten. We do not know when she will be beaten. The unconditional surrender of Italy would not necessarily give the Allies a superlative invasion base. However, it would make the Balkans easier to handle.

We must not allow our victories to lull us into a feeling of false security. They must not be permitted to slow down the war effort. In that road lies danger. It is the common goal to end the war as quickly as possible with a minimum loss of life and materials. Thus eternal vigilance is as essential as always.

The American people will do well to heed the advice of Vice Admiral Horne when he looks to 1949.

Craig Stars In Narberth

Cliff Williamson was the winner, holding Manoa to seven scattered hits. Manoa will endeavor to get revenge when it travels to Pen-Mar field on Sunday.

On Sunday Manoa took advantage of Charley Heavey's wildness to push over six runs in the first inning and three in the second and merely coasted from there in. All told, Manoa collected 18 hits from three Overbrook pitchers with Allie Gwynn, marking his return to the team after a brief trial with Trenton of the Inter-State League, and Bob Allison, leading the way with three each. Allison received credit for his fourth mound victory, but he retired after the sixth inning in order to give Harry Blair, Lower Merion High southpaw, an opportunity to show his stuff. Blair was touched for four hits in his three innings of toil.

George Joseph's, Brookline's hill "find," came up with another brilliant performance against Pen-Mar, allowing just three hits and fanning six as he chalked up his third victory. Home runs by Jack Werner and Frank Schwamda and five blows by outfielder Kennedy sparked Brookline's 18-hit attack on pitchers Sullivan and Gordon.

most towns courses and pools are still accessible. For you who like fishing, nearby lakes and streams may prove as profitable as those several hundred miles away to which you used to go.

Cycling and Riding
To "get away from it all" and still avoid using crowded or restricted transportation facilities, you may take a bicycle trip. There are various hostels around the country for cyclists and many interesting places to visit. If you live in the river country, a canoe trip may fulfill a lifelong ambition. A trip by horseback can be very enjoyable in scenic sections of the country.

If You Stay At Home

For those people who plan to stay at home, there are plenty of things to do around the house. Winter clothes may be cleaned and mended. Shutters, screens, and storm windows can be repaired. Loose putty in windows should be replaced. Chimneys and other brick work may be checked for for places where mortar has dropped out or loosened and these should be repaired. If necessary, woodwork may be repainted. Wooden steps and wooden supports for steps or porches should be checked for rotteness and the underpinning of any outbuildings checked. Roof gutters and drains can probably use a good cleaning and painting with an asphalt composition. Screws and bolts on automobiles, bicycles and household utensils may be tightened up and door hinges and household appliances oiled. Another good deed would be to look over your library and pick out some books to send to an army camp, the Merchant Marine, U.S.O., or Red Cross.

REMEMBER the slogan, "Eat what you can; what you can't, can"? Today, this adage is more appropriate than ever.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT O. P. A. PRICE PANEL

Each week in this same space the Price Panel of the Ardmore War Price and Rationing Board will attempt to answer the most frequently asked questions about the Price Panel—what it is—how it works—what it is expected to accomplish.

Question: What is meant by a Group 1 or Group 2 store?

Answer: Group 1 and 2 indicate independent stores, the latter are those doing over $50,000 gross annual business. Groups 3 and 4 are chain stores. Each store is required to display a sign stating to what group it belongs.

Question: Must ceiling prices be the same in stores of any of the four groups?

Answer: Prices can vary a little. Ceiling prices have been established for each group by OPA.

Question: Should ceiling prices be posted in retail stores?

Answer: Yes?

Questions: Where should I look for ceiling prices in a store?

Answer: At a counter or on a shelf where merchandise is displayed. At all times current ceiling price for each item of food must be clearly shown on the article or at the place in the store where the article is offered for sale.

Question: Can stores sell under the ceiling price?

Answer: Yes — If a store chooses to sell any goods for less than ceiling prices the sale price should be shown below the ceiling price.

Question: Can food stores make a charge for delivering?

Answer: Yes. OPA. has permitted food stores to charge for deliveries as follows:

Orders less than $2.00 no charge.

Orders from $2.00 but less than $3.00—10c.

Orders from $3.00 but less than $4.00—15c.

Orders from $4.00 but less than $5.50—20c.

Orders from $5.00—25c.

Question: How should violations be reported?

Answer: If you are charged a higher than ceiling price on any article, report this in writing to your local Rationing Board, giving the full information.

1. Name and address of store.

2. Complete description of article.

3. The price charged.

4. The date of purchase.

5. Your name and address.

6. Mail complaint or bring it to Ration Board office during office hours.

Question: Why must I sign my name?

Answer: Your name will be treated confidentially at all times. You can be sure of that. Signing your name indicates it is a well intentioned complaint.

The Grist Mill

Attorney John Flynn, of 210 Essex Avenue, Narberth, found that he had reason to be in Orphans' Court at Norristown Monday morning, all of a sudden. His coat (it was hot, you know) was a block down the street at his office, so he appeared at the office of a fellow Narberthite in the Court House requesting the loan of said fellow's coat. It was okay except for the sleeves nearly covering John's hands.

When you go to the polls Tuesday, September 14, (don't tell me you aren't planning to go!) to cast your ballot in the primary, you will find three names as Justice of the Peace candidates. The drawing Monday by Calvin W. Rigg, chief clerk of the County Board of Election, resulted in the following order for Narberth's only contest on the Republican side: J. Louis Jenkins, Fred Walzer and Otto B. Duer. Friends of Jenkins and Duer figure they have Fred right where they want him—in the middle.

That man Rigg, incidentally, is a card, as the boys say. He loves to argue. It doesn't matter especially to Cal which side of an argument he finds himself on so long as the going is heavy and the opposition sturdy. People employed at the Court House still recall the day when Commissioner Foster Hillegas, of Pennsburg, took office. The group of employees which included Rigg came down to the Commissioners' office to meet the new boss. Hillegas made a nice little speech, winding up with some remark to the effect that if there was anything he could do for them at any time, just to let him know. Cal took that as his cue and jumped in with both feet. "Well," he said in his loud clear voice, "you might recommend that we get a raise." (P. S.—They didn't get the raise—then.)

The courteous and efficient service which Rigg has rendered at election time to Election Board officials and others has gained him the respect and regard of people from all over the county. If a question arises which involves a fine point in the Election Code, Cal usually knows the answer. If he doesn't, he gets it in short order. The receipt of ballot boxes and registration binders on election nights in the Court House garage, where election officials can walk right in from the street at his office, so he appeared at the office of a fellow Narberthite in the Court House requesting the loan of said fellow's coat. It was okay except for the sleeves nearly covering John's hands.

Explaining the Laundry Situation

THE PUBLIC, generally is complaining about WARTIME LAUNDRY SERVICE. Most people do not realize that laundries are swamped with work. Large quantities of Army and Navy washing and cleaning are all extra. Less laundering is being done at home usually from shortage of domestic help. More civilians are working, soiling more clothes. It is difficult for laundries to get trained personnel and sufficient equipment... many former employees are in the armed forces. Deliveries, fires and gas are restricted. All these things help to make up our very serious problem. Remember we are working faithfully... for you... please be patient with us.

ARDMORE

This Week IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—

The wave of optimism which spread over our country following our success in Africa and then in Italy has been inflated to such an extent by the ousting of Mussolini that our war leaders are plainly worried. Reports from all sections of the country indicate that the American people think the war is in the bag and many, who should know better, are sitting back waiting for our armies to do the final mopping up within the next few weeks.

The effects of this over-optimism are obvious on all domestic fronts.

Civilian defense organizations are letting their activities drift. Motorists, who have been trying to conserve their worn tires for the duration, are taking a chance on getting new tires soon. Enforcement of the ban on pleasure driving in the East is breaking down completely. All over the country people are taking the attitude that the crisis has passed and we will soon be back to normal.

In Washington, where the present power of our enemies is known, there is no such optimism. Our war leaders do think victory is fairly certain, but they have no illusions about the size of the job which must still be done before the Axis can be brought to unconditional surrender. They also realize that the job will be slower and more costly if the American people permit any letup.

As for civilian defense, Mayor LaGuardia of New York has intimated that he thinks there is a good chance of air-raids on New York, or other parts of this country, between now and Thanksgiving. And James M. Landis, director of Civilian Defense, is not only stressing the need for keeping all such organizations on the alert, but is also emphasizing the importance of making these organizations permanent so they can be used for civilian emergencies after the war.

As for rubber, William M. Jeffers, our nation's rubber director here says the nation's supply of usable tires is dwindling rapidly and that there isn't much chance of having many synthetic tires until mid-1944. He pointed out that our tire supply will reach the lowest point in history in September and that no one should permit tires to become worn out beyond the recapping stage. As for gasoline, although the situation has been greatly confused by contradictory announcements by various Washington officials, the facts seem to indicate that any increased use of gasoline in the East will reduce the supply going to our armed forces or will enhance the shortage of heating oil available for next winter.

It is feared by some officials here that the encouraging news we have had lately will make the going harder in the campaign to decrease the rate of absenteeism in factories and will slow up the drive, soon to get under way, to get millions of women to take essential jobs. The treasury fears that the good news may also retard the sale of war bonds at a time when a drive for the greatest sale of government bonds in history is being planned for September.

War leaders here consider it natural that our victories are arousing the people to a point where they are eager for the kill, but they are pointing out that the final victory is not yet within easy reach and the time it will take to bring it about will depend, to a large extent, on the people's willingness to keep fighting on the home front.

Cheese is a concentrated food full of protein, calcium, fat, and vitamins A and B2.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF ALCAN HIGHWAY

Herbert Bruder Tells Why New Phones Are Not Installed

Members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club this week heard Herbert Bruder, their guest speaker, and an executive of the Bell Telephone Club explain an unsuspected connection between Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth, and the Alcan Highway to Alaska.

As the construction of the highway neared completion, the Army Signal Corps called on the Bell Telephone Co. to aid in the construction of vital communication lines along the new road. Tremendous amounts of equipment were needed as well as many workers, who working under and with the Army Signal Corps strung thousands of miles of wires, completing the job in eight days.

As a result, many exchanges throughout the country are now limited in their installations of new phones. In the Bala Cynwyd and Narberth exchanges, no new phones can be installed, except as other phones are taken out.

Bruder traced the local history of the Bell telephone, recalling that the Cynwyd office, opened in 1899, was located in the drug store of Rotarian L. Stanley King. There were then 16 phones in the Cynwyd exchange as compared with the 5,630 figure of July, 1943.

Members of the club were advised not to call during the telephone peak hours of mid-morning and early evening.

George Loughery, as chairman of the day, introduced the speaker and president Kirkpatrick presided.

"I'd like to tell you what the Japs did to some friends of mine"

"I AM LIEUTENANT (j. g.) ANN B. BERNATITUS, U. S. N.—a nurse, back from Bataan. I have a message for you..."

"Those American boys—who fought for you with their backs to the wall, waiting for help that never reached them—came from the land of plenty. But when their lives were at stake, all they had was... plenty of nothing!"

"They were outnumbered, outgunned, and out-supplied. They were so short of ammunition that anti-aircraft gunners often had to hold their fire until the enemy planes were on top of them. They were so short of bandages and gauze that we nurses had to wash out the old ones and use them again.

"But they were never short of courage. They never spoke of surrender. They just went on fighting, and hoping, and dying. And no sacrifice was ever too great.

"Let me give you an example. One terrible day on Bataan we had 285 patients on our operating tables in 8 hours—a new patient every two minutes of the day.

"A sailor was brought in with his abdomen blown to bits. He was a goner and I think he knew it. 'Doctor,' he asked, 'is there any hope at all?'"

"The doctor wished to reassure him and replied, 'We'll do everything we can!' The sailor tried to roll over. 'Doc,' he begged, 'get me off this table and save one of those other fellows who still has a fighting chance.'

"That was the kind of men we had at Bataan. And they would want you to remember not only what they did, but what they did without.

"They would want you to remember it, but not with flowers and memorials. The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow.

"Remember them now—this month and every month—by buying War Bonds!

"Buy guns and planes and shells and ships and tanks—for those other countrymen of yours who are fighting so far from home. See to it that never again, any place in the world, will American fighting men be caught short as they were on Bataan! That never again will American wounded perish for the help your dollars might have sent!

"Certainly taxes are higher. Certainly the cost of living has gone up. But the men on Bataan were never ten-percenters!

"They gave everything they had. And now it's up to you to buy War Bonds not only if you can, but all you can! Please believe me, folks—that's the way the boys on Bataan would like to be remembered!"
